Jupiter High student auditions for 'The Voice'

By Kierstyn Fisher, Photo Manger

Blake Shelton, Ariana Grande, John Legend and Kelly Clarkson sit facing away from the stage. Serenity Arce, a freshman at Jupiter High, strides across "The Voice's" blind audition stage, performing the song "I See Red" by Everybody Loves an Outlaw.

Arce's performance aired on Sept. 22 on NBC. Her song choice comes from the social media app, TikTok.

"I found that song and I first started practicing it," Arce said. "When I was told [to audition for "The Voice"] I've already practiced [the song] a lot."

How to start the college application process

By Peyton Weiss, School News Editor

The college application process is a standard procedure for all schools that can seem intimidating to students. Most colleges have the early decision deadline on Nov. 1, so students should get started on applications in order to meet the deadline.

Students can apply directly on colleges' websites or they can use The Common App Application.

"[For] community college, you would actually apply through their website because the Common App does not cover them," Holly Decabia, a Jupiter High guidance counselor, said.
