

WARCRY WEDNESDAY

SEPTEMBER 29, 2021

Warriors of Jupiter: Billy Bates

By Ryan Preisendorf, Staffer

William Bates lines up behind his center. Bates clutches the football and barrels head first into the defense, with the support of his offensive line. This play adds yet another six points for the home team's score. With an extra point, the Warriors increase their lead. The clock hits zero and Jupiter High's varsity football team wins their season opener against Okeechobee High School with a final score of 37-6. Billy Bates celebrates with his teammates; a phenomenal start to his final high school season.

Bates, a senior, is the team's starting quarterback and has been since his junior year. Bates' interest in football started at a young age...

To read the rest of this story
and more visit:

jupiterwarcry.com

Follow us on Instagram!

 @jupiter.warcry

Question of the Week

With fall starting Sept. 22, pumpkin spice is back in season. From latte's to donuts, are you a fan of pumpkin spice?

Answer the question through the QR code

Gianna Grieco's Photos of the Week

Should colleges judge students from their social media?

By Emily McGrail, Opinion Editor

With a changing society and advancing technology, large social platforms have increasingly gained prevalence and popularity amongst younger generations.

Although social media has opened new doors of communication, it has also opened new doors to account for people in a new light, allowing businesses, governments and universities to gain direct access to a person's private life.

Colleges nationwide have especially utilized social media as a tool to measure applicants' and students' character and even in some cases denying or punishing them for their posts.

Questions have arisen, however, concerning the ethics and justifiability of these institutions who carry out these searches and their ability to hand out penalties. Is it an infringement on the first amendment and the right to freedom of speech? Is it an invasion of privacy that needs a warrant? The answer is no.

Read the rest! ↓

